The 16th Russian Conference on Artificial Intelligence

RCAI-2018

September 24-27, Moscow, Russia

About

RCAI is the biennial conference organized by the Russian Association for Artificial Intelligence and held since 1988. RCAI covers a whole range of AI sub-disciplines: Machine Learning, Reasoning, Planning, Natural Language Processing etc. Before 2018, despite the international status of the conference, conference proceedings were published in Russian. 2018 is going to be the first year when selected high-quality papers of RCAI will be published in English and will be available worldwide

Organizers
